NRW YORK (N. L.), 4; CHICAGO (N. L.), 0. The Chicago Cubs have now lined up against the New York Nationals for eighteen innings

The Chicago Cubs have now lined up against the New York Nationals for eighteen innings and have not scored. Some believe they will get a run to-day, but whether this is a hopeful view or not, the Chicagos wore shut out again yesterday, the New Yorks outplaying them completely, not only in the points of the game but in the quality of ginger. The Cubs went through the movements of the game in rather a dispirited way and the just was not at all thrilling. McGinalty made the Cubs dance to the music of his pitching from beginning to end. As unwilling disciples of Terpsichore the visitors were a success, but as to any enjoyment in the performance for them they were a froat. One of them went as far toward the plate as third base and two as far as second base. Most of the others went as far as from the plate to the bench.

Brown held his own with the iron one for five innings, but in the sixth his pitching was threshed out for five singles, and the game was won and lost then and there. Brown was not control to have a painful break in the mechanism of Chicago's team work which cost at least one run. At the end of the sixth hinning McGraw was exiled from the field by order of Umpire Klem, who umpireds his first game here and acquitted himself in first class style. McGraw fussed with the umpire about an alleged balk or something, and Klem told him to hie himself to the clubhouse. He hied.

Deviln dented the turf in right center with a three bagger in the second inning, and McGraw, on the coaching line at third base, motioned him on to the plate. The ball was handled with such precision and quickness by Maloney and Hoffman that Devlin was thrown out by ten feet. A one hand running catch by Gilbert was another enlivening play in the same inning. While running out from the ball Gilbert thrust out his gloved hand and snatched in the curving pellet.

Bowerman laced a single to left in the sixth, and McGinnity bunted. Barry was playing in for a bunt, so could not cover first. Hoffman, on whom that duty devolved, was clear down

BROOKLYN, 4; PITTSBURG, 1.

So busily did Batch of Brooklyn buffet the ball at Washington Park yesterday that his hitting alone was equal to the task ci bringing defeat to the Pirates. Batch perforated the air with a home run, a three bagger and a single. The last time up he struck out, but his waning energy was pardonable in view of his heavy hitting previously. He rocked Robertaille for a home run in the fourth inning, and in the fifth, with two on bases, he jarred the Pirate twirler's delivery with a triple that scored two runs. Batch was the white haired boy, but Sheckard and Scanlon cut considerable figure in the game, Sheckard with his effective pitching. Four forform singles were made by the Pirates. In the seventh inning Scanlon ran to second base on Sheckard's sacrifice. He and Wagner came together and Scanlon in the eighth inning. The score:

Chicagos Wipe Up the Ground With Griffith's New York Crowd.

The New Yorks continued their indif-ferent showing at Chicago yesterday, the White Sox wiping up the ground with them. There was no change in the standing of the clubs, though the Bostons, by defeating Detroit, came close enough to Detroit, New York and St. Louis to pass them within a day or two. Cleveland's lead was cut down, the Washingtons shutting the Lajoies out.

CHICAGO (A. L.) 10; NEW YORK (A. L.) 4. CHICAGO May 15. — For seven innings to-day the Sox and Highlanders played a desperate seesaw game. Then the crash came and runs fairly poured over the plate in spite of Orth and all his followers. The score was a fat one and would have been far fatter but for the simply wonderful fielding of both teams. Williams, Yeager and Dougherty made absolutely bewildering onehand catches, while for Chicago the dazzling third base play of Tannehill was beyond imagination, hit after hit being cut down by the sinewy infielder. New York opened sharply on Walsh, and whacks by Dougherty, Keeler and Williams netted two at the start. A pass to Kleinow, a wild pitch, and Orth's single counted another in the second and Walsh fled, White going in. With two out and Davison on base in Chicago's half. Tannehill singled, Dundon doubled and White followed suit, tying the score. Wide throws by Tannehill and Donahue let Chase round in the fourth, but the Sox again tied the score in the sixth, on hits by Davis and Sullivan and a sacrifice. In the seventh Conroy fumbled White's whack and a long drive to Callahan put the Sox ahead. The grand fireworks came in the ninth. Donahue singled, Sullivan was hit, Tannehill's bunt rolled safe, and. Dundon biffed one. White went out and Jones hit into right. Keeler's throw home went forty feet wide and a regiment came whopping over the plate. The score: for Chicago the dazzling third base play of nusually Heavy Speculation in the Ring at Belmont Park Where Only Sixty-six Lavers Sit in the Front Line-Stalwart Works Fast Mile at Jamaica.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

BOOKS LOSE HEAVILY ON CLARK GRIFFITH AND ROSEBEN.

Owing to the railroad wreck at Woodhaven Junction, in which one bookmaker, James Ducas, was severely injured, many ayers and their clerks arrived at Belmont Park yesterday so late that they concluded not to proceed with their usual business.
As a result there were only sixty-six books, including the usual five non-members of the Mets, in the front line in the big ring, but they were kept unusually busy all the afternoon, as the speculation on all of the races was brisk and heavy.

The books kept a pile of sure money wagered on H. P. Whitney's Tanya in the first race, together with several large commissions colt, Clark Griffith, won the second race, thousands of dollars were paid out to lucky speculators. Farrell had a heavy bet down and so did Dave Johnson, Fred Walbaum, the Tammany crowd, including the Sullivans, George Wheelock, Sol Lichtenstein, Charley Cash, and in fact nearly every plunger at the track. The Kinley Mack colt opened at 6 to 5. In a jiffy the money was pressed into the hands of the layers, $1,000 at a crack, until even money was the prevailing quotation when the horses came out of the paddock. The financial flood, however, did not stop until Starter Cassidy sent the small field away, when Clark Griffith

So well pleased were Farrell and his trainer, Frank Weir, with the colt's impressive per-formance, that they decided to start him in the $15,000 National Stallion Stakes, to be run next Saturday, in which event this splendid son of Kinley Mack will meet First Water and some of the best two-year-olds in training. Before yesterday's race Peter Wimmer, who trained Kinley Mack when he won the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps in the same year, inspected Clark Griffith in the paddock with much interest. "He is the exact counterpart in every way of his famous daddy," said Wimmer, "and he looks to me as if he would develop into a great racehorse. Farrell bought the colt as a yearling for

$1,100 and is said to have already refused While the crowd at large lost on Onatas in the third race some of the sharpest speculators backed R. H. McCarter Potter's Chimney Sweep, a black colt by Buck Massie, who is standing at Mr. Potter's Pequest Stud. They pounded the odds down a point to threes. the books receiving a hard jolt when the colt came home on the bit. But this coup was not a marker to that pulled off by Dave Johnson and his friends with Roseben in the Claremont Handicap. Johnson added Jacquin, and with Burns and O'Neill to ride for him he went down the line at the last moment putting the money down in all sorts of amounts. His play was followed by the same men who plunged on Clark Griffith, with the exception of Joe Yeager, who went around the ring playing Race King as if it presented to fill, sport of the latter of Vivell, who rode Jacquin, either, for the latter got a similar present a few moments later.

W. M. Sheftel and Jesse Lewisohn, who have formed some sort of a betting partnership sent their commissioners to the ring to bet the limit on Waterbok in the fifth race. It was said that the joint wager was close to $10,000. Waterbok was only recently purchased by Sheftel from Newton Bennington, and he won like a real stake horse. E. E. Smathers, who ran second with a filly named Traismute, by St. George—Oyezpa, allowed her to start unbacked at 29 to 1. Timber and Hooray, both bred by John E. Madden, burned up a bale of greenbacks.

The Sullivans had the right cue when they placed their gold on Red Knight in the last race. They could see nothing else in sight and bet the books to a standstill. With a stable boy up and a big pull at the weight Red Knight proved to be a wild horse, for he won all the way. The ring, however, won on the race, as First Mason, the Boston Stable's pair Ostrich and New York and Adoell were all heavily supported

First Mason was played by several wise men as if he had the race at his mercy, but these individuals gasped for breath when they saw the ride he received. Ostrich was ridden by the Western jockey, Willie Knapp, who made his first appearance here this year and created a decidedity favorable impression. First Mason, by the way, gave thirty-six pounds by the scale to Red Knight, who was also in receipt of scale weight from everything else.

E. R. Thomas's Stalwart, who was scratched E thing else.

E. R. Thomas's Stalwart, who was scratched from the first race, worked a nile over the Jamaica track yesterday morning in 140 flat, immediately after which his trainer distinguished the convergence of with a rash that Jamaica track yesterday morning in 1-40 flat, immediately after which his trainer discovered that he was covered with a rash that looked like the hives. It was nothing serious, however, and Stalwart will be a sure starter, it is said, in the Brooklyn Handicap.

Tyler, the Humming Bird, who is still in the back line, had an army behind his book after Roseben had won. While the members of the Mets were showing 12 to 5 against the Ben Strome gelding and refusing bets at that, in some instances, Tyler persistently displayed 3 to 1 and took all the money he could get his hands on. The Humming Bird is unking a bigger book these days than a majority of the Mets, and is also a heavy winner on the season so far.

najority of the Mets, and is also a heavy winner on the season so far.

J. Grant Lyman has bought the two-year-old Gold Sifter, who ran second to Merry Boy last Friday, his first time out. The price was not made public.

Word was received here yesterday that the race mare Columbia, who was the Beldame of the French tracks, is dead. Billy Donahue, the well known trainer, who is operating on the other side, claimed the mare for W. K. Vanderbilt out of a selling race and won a number of important events with her afterward. She succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

number of important events with her afterward. She succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

Carrie Jones, who ran second to Chimney Sweep, is a three-year-old filly by Requital. Intermission, who was raced last year by John E. McDonald, but was passed up as no account after a killing had been effected with her one day in the spring over a muddy track. She carried the colors of Tom Mannix yesterday and surprised him as much as she did her former owner and his friends.

Orthodox showed in this event that he is surely an exploded phenomenon. When M. L. Hayman bought him last year it was believed that he would be a star performer at the winter tracks. But he did not come up to expectations and was shipped North early this year to have a rest. Trainer Watkins has started him several times here confident that the son of Donde Oro would achieve something, but in each instance the money bet on him went up in smoke. So little was thought of Orthodox yesterday that in spite of the fact that he was meeting alot of second class platers he was not backed at all and he ran a race that convinced many of his general worthessness.

Dave Johnson's good sprinter Roseben you the Claremont Handicap for three-yearolds and upward, six and a half furlongs at Belmont Park yesterday afternoon in the presence of 12,000 spectators. Roseben was coupled with Jacquin, an added starter the pair going up in the betting to 12 to 5 favorites. Race King, Preen, also added, Oxford and Wotan were well supported too. Preen made the running to the end of the far turn, where he bore out and lost much ground. Burns, meanwhile, took Roseben closer to the rail and quickly put the Ben Strome gelding under the whip, as Race King, who had been the runner up from the start, had plenty of speed left when L. Smith called upon him. It was a drive to the last 100 yards, where Race King hung, and Roseben took the race cleverly by a length in 1:20 4-5. Race King beat Oxford a length for the place, with Jacquin a length and a half away.

Burns rode another winner when he came home alone with W. M. Sheftel's Waterbok a heavily played second choice, in the fifth race for maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs. Waterbok fought it out stride for stride with John E. Madden's Timber, the favorite. up to the last furlong pole, where he drew away and won by three lengths in 1:01 4-5 E. E. Smathers's Transmute, a 20 to 1 shot, then closed and took the place from Timber by a length and a half. Hooray, third choice, was disgracefully beaten. The ride put up by A. W. Booker on First Mason, in the handicap at a mile and a fur long, was so poor that the half brother to McChesney, who had been pounded down to 13 to 5, was absolutely last. Red Knight, with 30 pounds on his back, was also hammered down to 11 to 5 and, making all the running, he won in romp by three lengths in 15343-5, incidentally displaying something of a form reversal. Ostrich, who was a coupled favorite with New York at twos, had five lengths over Nine Spot, an outsider, for the place.

H. P. Whitney's famous Tanva made her first appearance of the season in the first race, at six and a half furlongs. The talent plunged for the limit, sending the Meddler filly to the post a favorite at 11 to 20. She did not run as if ready for a hard race, and barely beat Big Ben, 18 to 5, for third money, Voladay, 50 to 1, on the other hand, led for a great part of the journey, but weakened near the end, Pasadena, 5 to 1, beating him by a length and a half in 1:221-5. Tanya was the same distance back.

Frank Farrell's Kinley Mack colt. Clark Griffith, a hot even money favorite, took the second race, for two-year-olds, four and a half furlongs, in the most impressive style. He led always and was eased up by Shaw at the end, where he passed the judges three lengths to the good in 0:54. Bill Daly's Veronese, 4 to 1, nipped the place from Just, 4 to 1, by a head, with H. P. Whitney's Hamburg colt, The Irishman, three parts of a length back.

TO-DAY'S BELMONT PARK CARD.

Bayelever Stakes for Three-Year-Olds the Feature. The Baychester Stakes for three-yearolds, one mile, is the feature at Belmont Park to-day, with Santa Catalina, Coy Maid, Zeala, Sinister, Jennie McCabe, Buttling and Right Royal figuring well. In the first event, for platers, at six and a half furiongs, Hannibal Bey, The Gadfly and Cottage Maid may be the factors. Two-year-olds will run in the second race, at four and a half furlongs, with Astronomer, Guiding Star, Montanus and Hammeraway possibly the best. The fourth event is for maidens, 3 years old and upward, with Jonquil, Migraine, Comet and Novena all possibilities. In the fifth race, at a mile, Old England, Jane Holly, Oarsman, Orly II., Arabo and Wizard look promising: while the last race, a hand leap at six furlongs, may narrow down to a struggle between Toscan and Right and True.

Purity and Quality do not always go hand in hand. A blended or compounded whiskey made by a reputable producer is pure and good if the whiskey used in the blend is pure and good. A bottled in bond whiskey is bound to be pure, for the government inspection renders adulteration practically impossible, but the quality of that pure whiskey may be extremely poor. For instance, a poor grade of malt will produce the same necessary chemical change in the whiskey as the finest malt, and costs the distiller much less, but the quality of the whiskey, if the former is used, will be poor.

In Sitsoris Pure Rye Whiskey nothing but the finest grain and malt is used or has been since the starting of the distillery 50 years ago. Sitionis Pure Rye Whiskey, "Blended" or "Straight," it's just the same, nothing but Saturis Pure Rye Whiskey.

MORAN THE WINNER Defeats Monte Attell in a Private Beut Before Select Throng.

In Owen Moran England certainly turned his own in this country. Moran met Monte Palisades, and defeated his man on points after one of the flercest twenty round fights decided hereabout in years. For the full journey the Englishman fairly smothered his opponent with blows, and that Attell lasted as long as he did was entirely due to his grit and good condition. in the eighth round, just near the end, Moran landed a left hook on Attell's chin and sent him spinning across the ring. The American would have fallen on his back had not his seconds grabbed him just as time was called. In most every round Moran was active. measured Attell's leads accurately, contenting to take a blow to get one solid punch home. At infighting he outclassed Artell two to one, battling the latter off and forcing him to clinch. Moran has a knockout blow in either hand and he staggered his man often. The men weighed in at 117 pounds at 6 o'clock, and Kid McPartland was the The affair was limited to 200 sports, who each paid $10 for the privilege of witnessing the bout. In the crowd were men well identifled with the turf, theatrical, business and financial world. The majority of the sports and there were at least four millioneire among them, came in cabs and automobiles to the place where the "tip" was distributed and from there they made the trip on foot to the hall where the combat took place Moran was a pronounced favorite at 5 to 4 on. The Attell crowd took all the betin sight, and when the bout began the best

He caught Attell on the cheek. Monte came back with a straight one on the mouth, splitting the Englishman's lips and nose, drawing first blood. Attell received a severe right hand punch on the nose in the third and was careful of Attell received a severe right hand punch on the nose in the third and was careful of Moran for the remainder of the round. In the fourth Moran rushed Attell to the ropes, landing two light labs on the mouth. Moran was very aggressive. Some vicious knocks were delivered by both men in the fifth.

In the fixth the men confined themselves to body blows. They slugged away like domons in the eighth. Monte went reeling and was saved from being put out by the call of time. Moran's blows made Attell weary in the tenth. He landed a hard right in the stomach and Attell yelled "Foul!"

Attell was bleeding from the mouth in the thirteenth. Moran kept rushing and cut Monte's left cheek.

They fought every inch of ground in the sixteenth. Moran landed two blows to Attell's one, but Monte showed great spirit in taking his medicine. The seventeenth and eighteenth rounds were equally divided though nevertheless very fast. In the nineteenth and twentieth rounds Moran punished Attell when and where he is the seventeenth and the control of the seventeenth and the control of the seventeenth and twentieth rounds Moran punished Attell when and where he is the seventeenth and the control of the seventeenth and the seventeenth and

The Name on The Car

Studebaker Automobiles are the natural and logical fruit of Fifty years continued success in vehicle construction. They represent the final achievement of an enterprise the product of which is famous everywhere.

You have in Studebaker Automobiles, either Gasoline or Electric, all that stands for in point of experience and progress, to say nothing of a reputation too valuable to endanger for the sake of selling one or ten thousand cars.

We believe any thinking man or woman will see the common sense of such an argument, and when we say with all the conviction we know that the Studebaker Automobiles are in every respect worthy of this name, we believe you will consider an investigating visit to our warerooms time well spent.
